You understand - once you receive the virus mRNA, this will go into the nucleus of your cells and dictate to your own DNA/genetic print to produce completely foreign substance/s - proteins of a virus - and thus, changing your genetic information. This can actually be irreversible and continuous/permanent ongoing. You become a genetically modified human/YOU. Can you now be patented, owned??? I don't know, theoretically, yes!

and now ... drum rollllllllll, please (pretend you are surprised!)
